Strategic Leadership Doctorate and Strategic Design MBA Collaboration

To support the academic, professional and social interests of the students and faculty who are part of the PhilaU professional graduate community, two courses for the Doctorate in Strategic Leadership (DSL) will meet at the same times and building as the Strategic Design MBA (SD MBA) program. Here is a link for SD MBA <http://www.philau.edu/StrategicDesignMBA/index.html> and their Director, Dr. Natalie Nixon: http://www.philau.edu/StrategicDesignMBA/meet_the_director.html. This logistic collaboration enables MBA and DSL students and faculty to share space for meals, programming, guest lectures, networking, and projects.

Here is the proposed schedule which follows DSL New Student Orientation on January 15 and 16.

Courses:

- January 22, 23
- February 5, 6, 19, 20
- March 4, 5, 18, 19
- April 1, 2, 15, 16

Strategic Leadership Faculty Updates

Larry M. Starr, PhD is pleased to report that on September 7, 2015 he was made a member of the New York Academy of Sciences.

The Academy is the world's nexus of scientific innovation in the service of humanity. One of the oldest scientific organizations in the United States, the Academy has become not only a notable and enduring cultural institution in New York City, but also one of the most significant organizations in the international scientific community. Academy members have included leaders in science, business, academia, and government, including U.S. Presidents Jefferson and Monroe, Thomas Edison, Louis Pasteur, Charles Darwin, Margaret Mead, and Albert Einstein. Today, the Academy President's Council includes 27 Nobel Laureates as well as CEOs, philanthropists, and leaders of national science funding agencies.
